

This bear is similar to a real bear. The arms as well as the legs are mounted on the torso with new twine, which is fastened and tied like a knot. The labyrinth was ... and will be again. The point is that it can be folded and moved to another place. It can be moved in the same way as the labyrinth, resulting in a complete change in its configuration. At the same time the game will be exactly the same. It all depends on how much time you spend on moving it. You should remember that the labyrinth should always be placed in the narrowest place if you want it to be visible from different directions. The game "What's that? (What's that?) The game "What's that?" requires no special skills.
